

The National Civility Center

Great Schools Project

The National Civility Center

Michiana Office
67733 Marian Trail
Sturgis, MI 49091

Dr. Jay Newman
Phone: 269-808-4491 or
Kent Roberts
Phone: 248-891-0640 or
Kari Hatt
Phone: 269-806-3822

jnewman@civilitycenter.org or knewman@civilitycenter.org or kentroberts@civilitycenter.org
Website: www.civilitycenter.org

THE NATIONAL CIVILITY CENTER'S GREAT SCHOOLS PROJECT

THE NATIONAL CIVILITY CENTER

We Represent the Human-side of Greatness

From the authors of Bring a Dish to Pass and Community Weaving, The National Civility Center presents its Great Schools Project. This project is designed for schools that are facing tough decisions about: ■ graduation requirements, graduation rates and drop-out rates ■ declining or rapidly growing enrollments and the related facility and staffing issues ■ early childhood programming ■ and/or testing and curriculum content and alignment.

The processes utilized in this project address both internal and external School Improvement Factors. They are based on what we refer to as our Principles of Greatness and more than 20 years of work in school and community improvement.

Internal Factors:

- ◆ Engaging staff for student success
- ◆ Engaging students for their own success
- ◆ Aligning actions to vision, mission, and core principles

External Factors

- ◆ Integrating comprehensive and innovative community involvement for student success
- ◆ Engaging parents as true partners for student success

The Great Schools Process leads to:

- ◆ High Quality Outcome Recommendations/Decisions
- ◆ Broad Community Buy-in
- ◆ Positive, High Quality School Community Connections

Contact us for more information and a project description!